

Our 2019 personal best evening was an amazing night. We had the opportunity to present the projects we have been working on for the last two terms. Although there were a lot more than just the ones shown on the presentation evening, there was so much work that went into these projects.

It started in term one and no one had a clue what they would do. Personally, I knew I wanted to create something to do with the environment, so after a bit of thinking, I decided to create a paper tree.

My tree represented habitat destruction and was basically a giant metaphor, I chose this because I felt it sent a good message and had a lot of meaning to it. When presenting our projects, you could see that nothing was the same and all of them impossible to compare.

When asked which one I thought was the best, I had no answer as all these projects were so different and so amazing, and even better to present. The night began with selected students presenting or performing their projects in front of all the year 9 students and families.

The night then continued with all our family and friends roaming the year 9 area and having a look at all the projects we had created. Overall the night felt like a complete success and was extremely entertaining to show off.
